

With
the right attitude and commitment to this class, you will fine tune the voice in your writing. This class will challenge and, at times, push you in directions that you are not comfortable with, but be daring and open to new views. We all see things differently and, as a writer, it is our job to illustrate our ideas with words. Some will be good, some bad, but each piece will be a learning and growing experience. Enjoy the class. Enjoy writing. Enjoy learning. We flourish when we enjoy what we are doing, and we tend to do a better job.

This class is about experiencing the imagination.

Supplies
Practice notebook
Loose leaf paper
Note cards
Dens—any COLOR
Markers
Three ring binder
IMAGINATION!!

Though you have a great deal of freedom in your writing, there are some structural guidelines for the class. You will be given a syllabus that will be modified as needed, so be sure to bring it to class everyday. Daily and test grades will be taken and ALL assignments are due on the due date.
Late work is NOT accepted. Homework is a valuable ingredient to the class. **Being prepared for class, showing respect for yourself and others, and following all school rules are the classroom discipline expectations. Following these rules will help to ensure a positive and comfortable environment. If the rules are not kept, the following consequences will occur:*

1. warning
2. lowering of citizenship grade
3. phone call home
4. referral.

**Structure is not a bad thing. If we didn't have it, what would hold our sentences together?*

Creative Writing

Ms Cochran
Room 825
Email: scochra1@aisd.net
Fall 2008